Fiorina, Cruz to Address Republican Women Leaders at National Convention

Convention Registrants to Cast Vote in Presidential Straw Poll

PHOENIX, Ariz. – Republican presidential candidates Carly Fiorina and Ted Cruz will address more than 1,200 Republican women leaders from across the nation during the 38th biennial convention of the National Federation of Republican Women (NFRW). The convention is set Sept. 11-13 at the JW Marriott Desert Ridge Resort & Spa, 5350 East Marriott Drive, in Phoenix.

Fiorina will kick off the convention Friday, Sept. 11, at 4:45 p.m. Cruz will address the convention Saturday, Sept. 12, at 5:00 p.m. Each of the 17 Republican presidential candidates was invited to the event; several of the campaigns are sending video remarks or surrogate speakers.

Also during the event, national pollster Kellyanne Conway will conduct the NFRW presidential straw poll featuring the 17 GOP presidential candidates. Results will be announced the morning of Sunday, Sept. 13.

To request credentials or more information, contact Lisa Zirioux, NFRW communications director, at 405-596-3873 or communications@nfrw.org. Additional information is available at www.nfrw.org/convention-phoenix.

Founded in 1938, the NFRW has thousands of active members in local clubs across the nation, making it one of the largest women's political organizations in the country. The grassroots organization works to promote the principles and objectives of the Republican Party, elect Republican candidates, inform the public through political education and activity, and increase the effectiveness of women in the cause of good government.
